Workshop
"Data curation and web presence for the HERA Joint Research Programme (HERA JRP)"

21-22 October 2010, Dublin

PROGRAMME

Thursday, 21 October
Trinity Long Room Hub, Trinity College Dublin, College Green, Dublin 2

12:30 – 13:45 Lunch & Registration

13:45 – 14:00 Welcome words (Sean Ryder, Chair of the HERA Network Board and Susan Schreibman, Director of the Digital Humanities Observatory)

14:00 – 15:00 Planning, managing and implementing a project involving digital data (Simon Tanner, Director of King's Digital Consultancy Services, King's College London)
- Questions

15:00 – 16:00 Case studies on dealing with different types of data: HERA JRP Projects
- Mark Hedges and Charlotte Tupman, King's College London (SAWS)
- Elizabeth Edwards, University of the Arts London (PhotoCLEC)
- Jaspreet Kaur Takhi, University of Birmingham, Anu Muhonen, University of Stockholm and Jinling Li, Tilbourg University (IDIAMES)

16:00 – 16:15 Coffee break

16:15 – 17:30 Round-table discussion
- benefits of digital data preservation and sharing
- available digital repositories for humanities data at national and international level

Speakers:
- Dietrich Schüller, Phonogrammarchiv, Centre for Linguistics and Audiovisual Documentation, Austrian Academy of Sciences
- Mark Hedges, Deputy Director of the Centre for e-Research (CeRch), King's College London
- Susan Schreibman, Director of the Digital Humanities Observatory, Dublin
- Simon Tanner, Director of King's Digital Consultancy Services, King's College London

Facilitator: Arianna Ciula, Humanities unit, European Science Foundation

19:15 Meet in the lobby of Trinity Capital Hotel

19:30 Dinner Unicorn Restaurant, 12b Merrion Court, Merrion Row, Dublin 2

Friday, 22 October
Royal Irish Academy, 19 Dawson Street, Dublin 2

10:00 – 10:30 Presentation of the HERA website (Susan Schreibman, Digital Humanities Observatory)

10:30 – 11:15 How to make your website work with the Hera website (Shawn Day, Digital Humanities Observatory)
- Questions

11:15 – 11:30 Coffee Break

11:30 – 12:30 Presentations of the HERA JRP individual project websites
- Scott Rettberg, University of Bergen (ELMCIP)
- Hembo Pagi, University of Southampton (CinBA)
- Marte Spangen, University of Oslo (TAP)
- Julie Fedor, University of Cambridge (MAW)

12:30 – 13:30 Lunch

13:30 – 15:00 Two Parallel sessions:

1) Training session on the HERA website (Niall O'Leary, Digital Humanities Observatory)

2) A more dynamic web presence for HERA JRP? (Tony Whyton, University of Salford, Rhythm Changes):
- Difference between developing a website as a repository for information and a website that encourages engagement and/or facilitates knowledge exchange.
- The strengths and limitations of using the web for KT activities. How to bring the value of humanities research to a much wider community?

15:00-15:30 Conclusions