

Linköping University

RESEARCH CONFERENCES

ESF-LiU Conference

The Changing Use and Misuse of Catha Edulis (Khat) in a Changing World: Tradition, Trade and Tragedy

Scandic Linköping Väst, Linköping • Sweden
5-9 October 2009

Chair:

Dr. Michael Odenwald, University of Konstanz, Germany

Vice-Chairs:

Dr. Nasir Warfa, Queen Mary University of London, UK

Dr. Axel Klein, University of Kent, UK

www.esf.org/conferences/09274

With support from

Riksbankens
Jubileumsfond

Auswärtiges Amt

LIST OF ACCEPTED POSTERS

	Surname	First Name	Poster Title
1	Ajab	Aboker	The missing link: khat use, public health and service provision
2	Al-Dubai	Mohamed Fara Mohamed	A Road Map towards solving Water and Qat, problem in Yemen
3	Al-Mamary	Mohammed	Nitrosamine formation from different Catha edulis leaves extracts under simulated gastric condition

4	Alsanosy	Rashad	Pattern of Khat abuse and its associated academic impact among Secondary School and College Students in Jazan region, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (KSA)
5	Al-Zubairi	Adel	Assessment of the anti-oxidant and Genotoxicity of Catha edulis (khat) Crude Extract Sub-Chronic Administration in rats
6	Bedada	Worku	The neuropsychopharmacological effects of Catha edulis in mice offspring born to mothers exposed during pregnancy and lactation
7	Bredholt	Therese	An organic khat extract and the natural khat amphetamines induce different signal transduction responses in leukocyte subsets
8	Farah	Abdulsamed	Criminalization of Khat and its impact for Somali migrants users
9	Kabananukye	Ishmaels Kabann Baguubwa	The Thriving khat Culture in Kampala City suburbs: Policy Challenges and Opportunities
10	Kimani	Samuel	Khat (Catha edulis) extract causes impairment of spatial acquisition and reversal learning and memory in CBA mice
11	Kinlund	Peter	Land, leaves and livelihood
12	Kragegaard	Ingeborg	Linking social work and treatment efforts in connection with khat addicts in diaspora
13	Mohmoud	Ahmed Mohamed	Chemical Composition of Khat with Mental Health
14	Moore	Dennis	The emergent generation gap in attitudes toward khat use in urban Ethiopia
15	Muche	Abebe	The effect of ethanol and khat (catha edulis forsk) on the cerebellar cortex of early postnatal rats
16	Munjuri	Kimathi Joseph Samson	The Future of Miraa (producers perspective)
17	Oyungu	Eren	Proconvulsant effect of Catha edulis (Khat) in Sprague dawley rats
18	Salam	Saba	Assessing the validity and reliability of a Severity of Dependency Scale for khat (SDS-khat)
19	Seblewengel	Lemma	Prevalence of Khat Chewing Among Higher Education Students in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia: An Assesment of Risk Factors for Chronic Diseases
20	Sewiye	Yohannes	Effects of Catha edulis Forsk (Khat) on Electrophysiologic Properties of the Heart and of the Lung Function Indices
21	Soressa	Teshome	The role of Chat in accelerating poverty and food-insecurity questioned; are we negating the misuse and abuse or what?
22	Stöckel	Judith	Psychotic patients with khat abuse in Somalia: the burden of their caretakers