

ELIAS grant 7247 - Scientific Report

(Julio Gonzalo, seminar on IR evaluation at ECIR 2015, Vienna)

Purpose of the visit

The primary goal of the visit was to give a tutorial on evaluation metrics for information access at ECIR 2015, together with Stefano Mizzaro and Enrique Amigó. A secondary goal was working together on a future book on the subject (to be published by Morgan Claypool).

Description of the work carried out during the visit

The tutorial was held according to the planned schedule. In addition, we attended ECIR 2015 and worked together on the book on evaluation metrics for several hours.

Description of the main results obtained

The tutorial was held with a good participation (34 people registered) and positive feedback from the audience. We expect that the tutorial will reinforce a systematic approach to compare and select metrics for a given Information Access task, and it certainly helped shaping the content of the book under preparation on the topic.

Future collaboration with host institution (if applicable)

Not applicable.

Projected publications

As mentioned, a book on the tutorial subject, co-authored by Enrique Amigó, Julio Gonzalo, Evangelos Kanoulas and Stefano Mizzaro is planned to be published by Morgan Claypool before the end of 2015.
